Part A - Main Website Pages

These are the main menus customers use on your website.

Home

Home is the first page that opens when someone visits your website. It introduces Parth Production with a strong brand feel, live event videos, and stage photos.

On this page, customers quickly understand what you do: sound, lighting, DJ, stage setup, and full event production. They also see booking buttons to contact you.

Use Home as your main first impression page. If Home looks good, customers feel confident to explore Services, Gallery, and Contact.

Services

Services shows all event systems you offer, such as Weddings, Concerts, Festivals, Corporate events, and Road Shows.

Each service section explains what your team provides for that event type, with pictures and a Book button. This helps customers choose the right option for their event.

When a customer clicks Book on a service, WhatsApp opens so they can ask about that exact service directly.

Gallery

Gallery is your photo proof page. It shows real pictures from past events so customers can see your work quality.

Customers can browse photos and open them in a larger view. This builds trust because they can see actual stages, lighting, and production setups.

Keep Gallery updated after big events so new customers always see your latest work.

About

About tells your company story in a simple way: who Parth Production is, how you started, and how you grew.

It also introduces your founder and why people choose your team. This page is important for trust, especially for new customers who do not know you yet.

About is not only for booking. It helps customers feel safe that they are hiring a real professional team.

Contact

Contact collects all ways to reach your business in one place: WhatsApp, phone numbers, email, and studio address.

Customers come here when they are ready to talk, ask price, or confirm details. It also includes map and directions to your Surat studio.

Always keep Contact details correct, because Book buttons and WhatsApp links use the same numbers from your settings.

Part A - Website Buttons

These buttons do the main actions on the website.

Book / Book now / Book a production

This is your main booking button. When a customer clicks it, WhatsApp opens with your business number.

The customer can then send a message to book a date, ask for availability, or request a quote. You do not need a long form on the website.

This button appears in important places like Home and other booking sections, so customers can contact you quickly.

WhatsApp / Start WhatsApp chat

This opens a WhatsApp chat with your official business number. It is the fastest way for customers to talk to your team.

Many customers prefer WhatsApp for event booking because it is quick and familiar. Your team can reply with packages, dates, and next steps.

If the WhatsApp number in Admin Site Settings is wrong, this button will send people to the wrong chat. Always keep it updated.

Call / Phone

This starts a normal phone call to your business number. It is useful for customers who want to speak directly.

On mobile, clicking Call opens the phone dialer with your number ready. On computer, it depends on the device calling setup.

You can show more than one phone number on Contact, so customers have a backup way to reach you.

Email

This opens an email draft to your business email address. Customers can send written enquiries, event details, or documents.

Email is useful for formal communication, especially corporate clients. Make sure the email in Site Settings is always correct.

When customers click Email, they do not need to copy your address manually.

Map / Studio / Directions

This opens Google Maps to your Surat studio location (Gaurav Path Road, Palanpur area).

Customers can see the location and get directions for visiting or meeting your team. It reduces confusion about where your studio is.

If your address changes, update it in Admin Site Settings so the map and Contact page stay correct.

Part B - Admin Panel

This is your private control room. Only your team can open it. Customers cannot see it.

Login

To enter Admin, open parthproduction.in/admin/login and enter your username and password.

After successful login, you see the admin dashboard with left-side menus: Gallery, Videos, Services, Stage Gallery, and Site Settings.

Do not share login details with outsiders. Admin controls your live website content and contact details.

Gallery (Admin)

Photos can be organized by categories like Weddings, Festivals, Concerts, Road Shows, and Corporate. Choose a category before uploading.

After making changes, click Save Changes. Only then the new photos appear for customers on the website.

Videos (Admin)

Use Videos to manage the homepage video showcase. You can upload short event videos, remove old videos, and change their order.

These videos help customers feel the energy of your events on the Home page. Short vertical videos usually look best on phones.

Remember: upload or reorder first, then Save Changes to publish on the live site.

Services (Admin)

Use Services to change the main cover picture for each service type (Weddings, Concerts, Festivals, Corporate, Road Shows).

This does not create new service names. It updates the images customers see on the Services page for each existing service.

Stage Gallery (Admin)

Use Stage Gallery to manage the curved stage photo section on the homepage. You can add or replace stage images and edit titles.

You can also reorder slides so the best photos appear first. This section is one of the strongest visual parts of Home.

Always Save Changes after editing, then use Visit Live Site to confirm the homepage looks correct.

Site Settings (Admin)

Use Site Settings to update your business contact details: email, WhatsApp number, second phone number, and address.

These details are used across the website - Contact page, footer, Book buttons, and WhatsApp links. One update here can fix many places at once.

You can also manage admin login details from here. Keep passwords private and strong. After any change, Save Changes.

Save Changes

Save Changes is the most important admin button. Until you click it, your edits are only waiting and not live.

When you click Save Changes and confirm, the updates are published to the public website. Customers then see the new photos, videos, or contact details.

Habit to remember: Edit -> Save Changes -> Visit Live Site -> check.

Visit Live Site

Visit Live Site opens your public website in a new tab. Use it after saving to check what customers actually see.

This helps you confirm that photos loaded correctly, numbers are right, and pages look good on the live site.

If something looks wrong, go back to Admin, fix it, Save Changes again, and recheck.

Logout

Logout closes your admin session safely on that device. After logout, nobody can change website content until they login again.

Always logout when using a shared computer or when you finish work. This protects your website from unwanted changes.

If you forget to logout on your own phone or laptop, close the browser or logout when possible for better safety.

Part C - Daily Work Flow

Use this simple flow every time you update the website.

1. Open Admin Login and sign in
2. Choose the correct menu (Gallery, Videos, Services, Stage Gallery, or Site Settings)
3. Make your changes carefully
4. Click Save Changes and confirm
5. Click Visit Live Site and verify
